SHELLS BREAK UP ICE-THREE COMPANIES DROWN

Koenigsberg, March 27.-The difficulties with which the opposing forces in East Prussia have had to contend during the winter months are described by a Prussian soldier who has been through the long campaign.

His company was entrenched near one of the Masurian Lakes when three Russian companies attempted a surprise attack by creening over the ice. The assault was discovered and repelled, and the Germans were able to annihilate every member of the Russian force without leaving the trenches by the simple expedient of breaking up the ice with heavy shells, so that their opponents drowned.

Clad in their heavy uniforms and weighted down with cartridge belts, the Russian soldiers never had a chance. Before the eyes of the Germans they clung desperately to ice, and then, one by one, sank from sight. Not a man ever reach-the Earth.

EASTER A SYMBOL OF RENEWED LIFE

IS THE BEGINNING OF SPRING

Great Event Has a Physical As Well As Religious Significance.

THE RYTHMIC LAW OF MOTION THE MEXICAN PROBLEM

Easter is a Christian festival, fixed so as to occur at the beginning of spring.

Among all primitive peoples-Norse, Egyptian, Hindu or Greekspring's coming was given a religious significance. The profound heart of mankind has always interpreted nature spiritually-that is, all events in the whole order of things, the seasons, the movements of the stars, the storms, the sun, were conceived to be symbols addressed to the soul of man and not mere dead and meaningless factors.

If a man were a stone he might think the universe to be nothing but material; being a mind and heart, he persists in fancying the world also imbued with purpose and feeling. From this comes the racewide phenomenon of religion.

Without entering into the theological side of Easter, let us ask ourselves, "What is there in human nature of which the springcoming is a fit symbol?"

In four ways the soul sees itself at springtime in the revealing mirror of nature. It sees its own rhythmic law, the perpetual triumph of youth over old age, of hope over despair and of life over death.

1. The rhythmic law. Herbert Spencer beautifully explained how all motion is rhythmic; none is continuously steady. The blood circulates in pulses, the breath is taken regularly, day and night alternate, winds blow in gusts, laughter and weeping are spasmodic, and so on. So also the progress of growth, the education of the mind, the unfolding of the soul and the progress of civilization advance and recede, yet with a constant excess of advance; they go forward not as the river flows, but as the waves of the tide rise. So the common philosophy of the people says, "We all have our ups and downs," "The darkest hour is just before the dawn," and the like.

2. The triumph of youth over world; it is for youth, not old age. Trees shed their leaves, plants die, all vegetation periodically disappears and comes again young, lest 1943. the earth be filled with old things. THIRD OF BRAIN TAKEN

-POWERS ARE RETAINED

Paris, March 27.-The most remarkable surgical operation during the war has been performed by Dr. Guepin, who amputated a portion of a soldier's brain without impairing any of his faculties.

The soldier's skull had been pierced in the occipital region. Bony splinters penetrated the left section of the brain, causing a serious abscess. Dr. Guepin abstracted the splinters and cut away part of the brain. The latter operation was repeated when a second abscess formed. The soldier lost at least a third of the left hemisphere of his Politics is statescraft-the administration of public affairs. In our country this administration is only possible where two or more political parties strive for supremacy, the winning one assuming control in the person of the elected candidates. All parties strive, of course, to win through the success of their candidates before the people. No party can hope to win unless there is harmony in its ranks. A party split into two or more factions before the candidates are chosen, is liable to meet defeat at the general election following, especially if contentions grow bitter. COST OF ADVERTISING?

Certainly not the consumer; certainly not the retailer. Here is the real truth of the matter. Money wisely spent in advertising increases sales and profits to such an extent that sufficient capital is provided for the operation of economics naturally resulting from buying and manufacturing in larger quantities. cheaper is the relative production. know, production is cheapened in a much greater degree by advertising than is represented by the money spent in advertising. Were it otherwise there would be no use in advertising.

Much as we advertisers love the newspapers, to whose revenues we contribute so handsomely, we only perform this service because we get more out of the publicity they give us than they get out of us-with occasional exceptions, perhaps, which are soon rectified. But what is of still greater importance is that, in ratio with the cheapening of production, there is a cheapening of the advertised article to the public. -[The late Thomas J. At the foot of the mount, just across the ravine, through which Kidron flowed, and about one-half mile from the city gate, lay the garden of Gethsemane. His heart is breaking and his body is sinking.

The blazing sun beats fiercely upon his bare head. The heavy cross presses painfully upon his lacerated and bleeding back. The Roman soldiers prick him with their spears, to hasten him on to the most horrible and disgraceful death known to the criminal code of the world. See! he falters; his strength is failing; he casts one appealing glance upon those around him. Brutal jeers and bloodthirsty shouts are the only response. He has borne the load almost to the journey's end -will not some one help him now? He sinks exhausted to the ground. The mob yells in fury for fear it will lose its sanguinary entertainment. A countryman approaching, on his way to the city, is forced to bear the burden. By this involuntary service he links his name with that of the Divine sufferer in immortal memory and upon the pages of sacred and profane history.

The mound is reached. Simon gladly throws the cross upon the ground. It was a heavy load for even his broad shoulders. The soldiers roughly throw their victim upon the cross and cruelly nail him to it. The cross is raised amid the delirious and diabolical joy of the mob. The pale lips of the sufferer tremble; he speaks and his words have rung all through the

As a result of this action, it is presumed that the Progressives will endeavor to put a full State ticket in the field with candidates from Governor down and fight the Republicans with all vigor.

Eleventh district, which read:

"Resolved, That the Progressives of Kentucky should immediately take steps toward an agreement for an honorable union with the Republicans of Kentucky for the election of State officers and members of the Legislature in 1915."

Mr. Emmett Orr, of Covington supported Mr. Bird, stating that no radical differences now existed between the Republican and Progressive parties. Mr. M. J. Holt made a vigorous speech against any kind of fusion with the Republicans, and Mr. Burton Vance indulged in a violent harangue to the same effect. Mr. Vance made a bitter attack upon former Governor A. E. Wilson, Mr. Charles L. Scholl, Judge Homer Batson and other Republicans who refused to support the Progressive nominees in the city election in Louisville in 1913. Mr. Vance opposed any kind of amalgamation with the Republicans, and stated his belief that the Progressive voters in Louisville will stand by the Progressive party.

The vote was then taken, and, after fusion had been defeated, Mr. Lawwill resigned and Mr. Holt was chosen in his place. During the debate Mr. Holt said there was a possibility that the Re-Morrow and the Democrats Mr. Stanley and the Progressives could then appeal to the temperance vote of the State and make a strong showing.

Mr. Holt did not himself oppose Mr. Morrow as a Republican nominee any stronger than all Republican candidates, but it came out at the meeting that the Louisville Herald, which has been acting as the organ of the Progressives, has demanded of the Republicans that Mr. Morrow not be nominated, and has indicated that the Herald would not flop to the Republican side unless some other than Morrow is named.

The Morrow men say that they will disregard such proposals, and that Morrow will be nominated.

The Common Human Emotions Do Not Stir His Steadfast Course.

ESTIMATE OF OUR PRESIDENT

On the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's second inaugural, Woodrow Wilson completes half of his Presidential term.

These two years of the Wilson, administration have helped to make more history than any other two years since Lincoln. The coming, two years of the Wilson administration must inevitably be the most momentous period that this country has known since the Civil War.

It is a fact of enormous import-White House a President who is completely master of himself. Being master of himself, he is master of his party and of his administra-

Men may agree with Mr. Wilson or disagree with him; they may like him Mr. Sommers took as active a part as or they may dislike him; but everybody knows that he alone is President. Everybody knows that during the remaining two years of his term he and he alone will be President.

A very unusual man stands to cope with a very unusual situation in the affairs of mankind-a President who in all his official relations displays neither vanity nor resentment, nor anger nor personal ambition. If he has friends their friendship counts for nothing in the affairs of state. If he has enemies, their enmity weighs nothing in the balance of government.

He seeks neither to reward the one nor to punish the other.

At this period in their first term most Presidents have been carefully calculating their chances of renomination and re-election. Nobody knows whether Mr. Wilson intends to be a candidate for re-election or not. Not a member of the cabinet, not a member of Congress can say of his own knowledge that the President desires a re-election or that he would not refuse a renomination. What all of them know is that the President would not stoop from principle to win either a renomination or a re-elecfulness lies in this crisis. It is easy to rattle the sabre. It is easy to make the welkin ring. It is easy to be spectacular and sensational and theatrical. It is easy to be a demagogue. It is easy to juggle with the fate of a nation when no man can forecast what the next day will bring forth. But it is not easy to be calm and restrained and judicial. It is not easy to face every responsibility without prejudice and and without passion. It is not easy to hew straight to the line of first principles, regardless of applause, of censure, or praise, or denunciation. It is not easy to be sane when the world has given itself over to mad-

TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE IS AGAINST STATE-WIDE

The Louisville Post says:

Yesterday we published a card from Mr. Harry A. Sommers, the editor of the Elizabethtown News, regarding the issue of the Kentucky campaign, as viewed by a ance that this crisis finds in the Democratic editor of many years'

Of Mr. Sommers' right to advise temperance Democrats there can be no two opinions. Mr. Sommers was one of the two men appointed from the State-at-large to serve upon the Platform Committee of the Democrati: State convention in Louisville in 1911, his associate being Mr. Beckham. The latter led the fight run from the White House into for a plank pledging the party to and Mr. Sommers was his most active and resourceful assistant. Later any State editor in the fight to pass the County Unit bill during the legislative session of 1912, and to amend it properly in 1914.

Mr. Sommers is a temperance man and a county unit advocate, but he sees, or thinks he sees, the unwisdom of bringing in State-wide prohibition at this time, and in the way proposed. The whole political situation is confused, but the position taken by Mr. Sommers is significant as indicating the possibilities of a sharp contest inside the party between the men who stand for State-wide prohibition and those who contend that a better policy would be to await the trial of the County Unit bill.

McCHESNEY ENTERS RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Stands for Constitutional Amendment Submitting to the People Vote on State-Wide Prohibition of Sale of Liquor.

Says it Must Be Determined Whether They or the Whiskey Interests Shall Rule Kentucky.

With the declaration in favor of Statewide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as the chief plank in his platform, the Hon. H. V. McChesney, of Frankfort, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the State primary of next August.

Mr. McChesney declares that if nominated and elected, he will urge upon the General Assembly to submit to the people for their ratification an amendment to the Kentucky Constitution providing for Statewide prohibition. In the formal announcement of his candidacy, Mr. McChesney, who several years ago filled the offices of State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Secretary of State, promises an abridgement of public expenditures where it can be properly done, and the further advancement of the present progress in educational and agricultural development.

His announcement is as follows:

where it can be properly done, and the further advancement of the present progress in educational and agricultural development.

His announcement is as follows:

"To the Democratic voters of Kentucky: After mature deliberation I hav decided to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for the office of Governor, in the primary to be held August 7, 1915. In making this announcement it is due those whose support I seek that I briefly outline the policies I advocate.

I am in favor of state wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. If nominated and elected shall urge upon the Legislature of 1916 the passage of an Act submitting a prohibition amendment to the Constitution to the people for their ratification. In view of the large amount of capital invested in the liquor business, however, I shall favor money in the business constituting the obstruction.

My familiarity with the financial affairs of the State, as a result of eight years' experience (from 1900 to 1907) as Superintendent of Public Instruction and Secretary of State, and as a member of the Sinking Fund Board, leads me to the belief that such a revision of our taxation system can be made as will readily reduce the State debt, and make good any decrease in revenues that might arise from the loss of the tax on liquors. And this can be done without any increase of the tax rate. Saving State revenues is just as important as producing them. With the elimination of the liquor business from Kentucky the saving to the State in criminal prosecutions alone would be an enormous item, and go far toward a solution of the financial problem. If the money spent for liquor in Kentucky, and for criminal prosecutions growing out of its use can be saved, in half a dozen years we can relieve the financial situation of the State and build a macadam road to every church and school house in the
